

Declaration of Originality

By this Declaration of Originality I, [author's full name], representing all other authors, author of the manuscript entitled [article title] to be published in REGEPE Entrepreneurship and Small Business Journal, declare for all due purposes that the aforementioned manuscript:

- a) has not been published, in part or in whole, in another journal (printed or electronic) of a scientific or non-scientific nature;
- b) has not been submitted simultaneously to another journal (printed or electronic), of a scientific or non-scientific nature;
- c) will not be submitted, partially or totally, to the evaluation of another journal, scientific or non-scientific nature, while it is being evaluated by REGEPE;
- d) is not bound to any form of copyright protection;
- e) () has () has not been published in full in any scientific event such as congress, symposium, meeting, and alikes. If it is case, the reference (APA7th format) is:
- f) does not contain any form of plagiarism, and I take responsibility for the use of texts and images from third parties, when such use requires authorization.

Thus, I authorize that the above mentioned manuscript

- a) be published without charge in the most convenient issue of REGEPE;
- b) be submitted to the standardization and formatting rules adopted by REGEPE;
- c) have its content displayed in REGEPE's website and that REGEPE will disseminate it according to the Open Science guidelines.

For being true, I sign the present.

Location and date: _____, ____/____/____. Signature: